

Information for visitors

The Institute focuses on research of highly contagious animal diseases. Some of these viruses can easily be transmitted via men to animals. Therefore the following rules have to be followed during and after a visit of the high security building.

1. Rules during the visit of the IVI

- Visitors have to follow all instructions of the IVI personnel.
- It is mandatory that all safety measures which are given to the visitor by the IVI personnel are followed at all times.

2. Rules following the visit of the IVI

After leaving the high security building the visitor has to keep a 72 hours quarantine period and strictly follow these precautionary rules:

- Contact to susceptible animals is not permitted. Susceptible animals are: cattle, pig, goat, sheep, deer, lama, alpaca and other cloven hoofed animals.
- Especially the visit of a farm, a zoological garden, a circus and other localities where susceptible animals are being held is forbidden.

3. Disregard of the regulations

Disregard of the above stated rules or disregard of any instructions given by IVI personnel can lead to a prosecution of the visitor.

4. Personal belongings

For security reasons, personal belongings can not be taken into the high security building. Such items can either be deposited at the administration or in a visitor's locker in the wardrobe.

Exception: Glasses can be taken into the high security building. They are decontaminated by IVI personnel before leaving the building.

Contact lenses may be worn if they are not removed inside the high security building.

Personal belongings not deposited at the administration are left at the owner's risk.

5. Confidentiality

Data of the Prüfstelle IVI are confidential. It is prohibited to distribute them partially or entirely.

The undersigned person confirms that he/she has knowledge of these rules. He/she is obliged to follow the above stated rules.
